Partners:

Established on the initiative of practitioners and theorists of intellectual property law, aviation and space law.

Designed to create a platform for the exchange of ideas and to conduct extensive interdisciplinary research on the use of new technologies in the aviation and aerospace industry.

Desiring to have its say in building the future “IPR&tech” approach to regulation, science and business.

The IIP foundation, among its various educational activities, stimulates the on-going debate on IPR and technology related issues through publishing and co-financing of scholarly books.
